A step closer to solving the diabetes dilemma.

Nonadherence is not just forgetfulness. Cost is also a contributing factor, with the total out-of-pocket spending for prescription drugs increasing by 54% between 2006 and 2016¹. People living with diabetes are in a challenging position to figure out how to afford the medicine they need.

Learn more about how insulin can be more affordable.

Skipping even a single insulin dose can jeopardize a person's health, leading to additional medical treatments that drive up overall health care costs. However, we can change this by making insulin more affordable and eliminating the tragic consequences of insulin rationing.

The Patient Assurance ProgramSM

The Patient Assurance Program will ensure eligible people with diabetes will pay no more than $25 for a 30-day supply of insulin. This will reduce out-of-pocket costs by 40% or more, so members can have predictable out-of-pocket costs at the point-of-sale.

SoNM Benefits - Helping every patient focus on what matters most: their well-being.

With your partnership, we can do more to help people living with diabetes afford the insulin they need. Click below to learn more and enroll in the Patient Assurance Program by August 7 for the 2020 plan year.
